THEME OF MASS
MEET LAST EVE*DIXON PEOPLE HEARD INSPIRING
ADDRESS AT OPERA
HOUSE.*A NOTED CHICAGO MAN HERE*Parents of Principal Speaker Guests of Lincoln at Ford Theater.

An audience of patriotic Dixon people, which filled the opera house to capacity, attended the mass meeting after the big Liberty Day parade Wednesday evening and listened to some very inspiring addresses. Hon. W. B. Brinton presided and after a selection by the Chamber of Commerce band, he introduced Rev. E. C. Lumsden, Rev. Michael Foley and Judge R. S. Farrand, each of whom in a short talk urged full-hearted support of the government in its prosecution of the war to make democracy safe.

Attorney Henry R. Rathbone, former president of the Hamilton Club, Chicago, was the principal speaker of the evening. He comes of a family noted for its intense love of country, and his speech reflected this patriotism. Mr. Rathbone's father was a graduate of Union College. He volunteered at the outbreak of the Civil war and became a major in the 12th U. S. infantry, serving with distinction, and after the peace treaty he remained for a time in the regular army. He was brevetted colonel and for a time was on the staff of General McClellan.

Mr. Rathbone's father and mother, who at the time were engaged to be married, were the guests of President and Mrs. Lincoln in a box at Ford's Theater at the time of the assassination of the president, and Mr. Rathbone, Sr., was severely wounded by Booth when he attempted to arrest the assassin.

Following are extracts from the speech of Henry R. Rathbone of Chicago, which he delivered last evening at the Dixon Opera House, concerning the Liberty Loan:

The Liberty Loan is the embodiment of the spirit of patriotism. To subscribe to it is to prove that we are animated by that spirit, that we are loyal to our country in deed as well as in words.

Patriotism is the cement which holds the national edifice together.

It is the spirit which unifies, solidifies, vitalizes what would else be a mass of inert scattered units.

It is to any nation the very breath of its life.

Without the spirit of patriotism, armies are but herded cattle, navies but helpless hulks, fortifications useless and dollars but an incitement

CANTONMENTS.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 25.—The board of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church has approved of the Young Men's Christian Association's conduct of religious work in the military encampments here and abroad. It will co-operate with the Y. M. C. A. and send ministers to each cantonment.

Fifty of the strongest young clergymen in the church will be drafted for this work today by a special committee of bishops.

The joint commission of the Methodist-Episcopal church and the Methodist Episcopal church, South, aimed to effect the unification of the two bodies, reported that an agreement is in sight.

A French Seaport, Oct. 25.—Escaping from a German submarine after a bitter fight lasting nearly four hours, and with seven of her crew wounded, two seriously, an American steamer arrived here this morning from an American port. The timely intervention of an American torpedo boat saved the ship from being sent to the bottom.

Bailey Will Not Go to France to Take Charge of Y. M. C. A. Camp

The Jackson, Mich., Patriot has an article in regard to Elwood T. Bailey, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in that city and formerly secretary of the Dixon "Y." It seems that the board of directors of the Jackson "Y." are not willing to give up the services of Secretary Bailey for over-seas work and have convinced him that the army cantonments of this country need what time he can spare from the work in Jackson, where he is needed more than ever since so many men have been relinquished for work in Europe. So Secretary Bailey bowed to the wishes of his board of directors and remains in Jackson, in spite of the urgent invitations from Camp.

The following letter, received by Mrs. W. H. Hardesty from her son Guy, who is a member of Battery C, 123rd Field Artillery, at Camp Logan, tells how the members of old Company C came across in support of the second Liberty Loan:

"Get your letter today and was sure glad to hear from home. We got the Comfort Fund all right and immediately some of us got new shirts. The rest of the fund is with Lieutenant Preston.

"This was a great day for drilling; not too hot, and with the soft sea breeze blowing over the drill ground, making it cool and pleasant. The boys of Company G, now Battery C, 123rd F. A., have taken out over $4,500 in Liberty Bonds. Not bad, is it?"

"It is very warm here days but the nights are cool enough for an extra blanket. We get quite lame and stiff riding, but will get used to it in a short time. But I do hope we get the Kaiser's goat before long.

"The boys of Company M seem to be having a hard time, according to the papers. We had a hard time of it when we first went to the arsenal, for we had to sleep on the ground in tents with only one blanket, and we walked outposts in all kinds of weather. No one sent us any extra blankets, and it was some cold.

"This is some place. Everyone is well as far as I know. And you can send me a box of eats before Thanksgiving if you want to, for it sure would taste good."

"When I faced 1,000 men in khaki last Sunday at Camp Custer," said Secretary Bailey last evening to a Patriot reporter, "I could not help but feel that I might be of greater service by getting into the army end of the work. But I am perfectly reconciled to the good judgment of the board of directors and shall give the best that is in me to the work in Jackson, and the cantonments, as I am able to serve them now and then."

Washington, Oct. 25.—Treasury officials announced today their conviction that Liberty Loan subscriptions have passed the $3,000,000,000 mark and are well on their way to the $5,000,000,000 goal.

Indications were at 11 o'clock that Liberty Day sales had carried the total to approximately $3,500,000,000, if not beyond that sum.

"A flood of telegrams from every part of the country," the treasury department announced, "told the same story of subscription agencies swamped so badly that there was no possibility of making accurate estimates of yesterday's sales before tonight at the earliest."

OHIO, FRACTURED SKULL
TODAY.

Emergency Operation Was Performed at Dixon Hospital—Little Hope.

(BULLETIN.)

H. Hildig died at the hospital at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Coroner Whetston has been notified and will come to Dixon this evening.

H. Hildig, an iron worker employed by the Bellefontaine, Ohio, iron works, engaged in structural iron work at the Sandusky Cement company's plant east of this city, was probably fatally hurt at about 11 o'clock this morning when he fell from a building on which he was working.

His fall was over thirty-five feet and he struck on his head and shoulders, suffering a bad fracture of the skull over the right ear; and the attending surgeon stated there is very little hope for his recovery.

Emergency Operation.
How the unfortunate man happened to fall is not known, his companions first seeing him as he pitched headfirst from the top of the building. He was taken at once to the company's emergency hospital and an ambulance was summoned, in which he was rushed to the Dixon hospital, where Dr. R. L. Baird performed an emergency operation, removing a piece of bone nearly two inches in diameter from the skull. However, the concussion of the brain is considered so severe that recovery is very doubtful.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Relief for the prevailing sugar shortage in the east was seen here today in the food administration's announcement that 2,000,000 pounds of Louisiana cane sugar has been purchased by the American Sugar Refining company and will be transported to Boston, New York and Philadelphia refineries.

This is expected to have an effect on the shortage in the middle west.

PATRICK KEENAN DIED YESTERDAY

Word was received in Dixon today that Patrick Keenan, a resident of Dixon and a veteran of the Civil war, passed away yesterday at the Soldier's Home at Quincy, Ill. The body will be brought to Dixon for burial. Funeral arrangements are not complete today, but the funeral probably will be held tomorrow from St. Patrick's church.

The veteran soldier is survived by two sons, Joseph of Dixon and John of New York City. The many friends will be shocked to learn of his death. Mrs. A. J. Gaff of this city is a sister-in-law of the deceased.

Dixon Troops at Camp Logan Will

Dixon boys at Camp Logan, Houston, Tex., will be shown in motion pictures to be exhibited here at an early date.

Under authorization of the war department, the Southern Pine Association of New Orleans announces that it has arranged for the distribution throughout Illinois and neighboring states of a special production showing camp life at Houston, where the former Illinois National Guard is now undergoing final instruction for service abroad. The pictures will include close-up views of the troops at work and play, athletic events, some individual "shots" at commanding officers, companies and regiments grouped, and other interesting features.

It is the intention of the war department to give parents and friends at home a comprehensive idea of just how their boys are cared for by Uncle Sam.

The American army is said to be the best housed fighting force the world has ever known. Two hundred and fifty million feet of southern pine lumber has been required to erect more than 30,000 buildings,

DIXONITES SEE
THOUSANDS IN GREAT PARADE*BIGGEST DEMONSTRATION IN HISTORY OF CITY TOOK PLACE LAST NIGHT.*MUSIC, FIREWORKS AND FLAGS

Line of March Was a Blaze of Glory—Parade Was Two Miles in Length.

Dixon celebrated Liberty Day last evening in a manner which we are sure was not outlined in any city in the land. Fifteen thousand people took part in the demonstration, either in the role of parader or cheering on the side lines.

The great Liberty parade, which will go down in local history as the greatest of its kind, was two miles long. It took forty-five minutes for the parade to pass a given point, and at least five thousand people were in the line, on a conservative estimate.

The parade formed with clocklike precision promptly on time and went through without a hitch.

Last night's Liberty parade was without question the greatest public demonstration in the history of this city. It was viewed by such great throngs that it seems safe to say that the entire population of the city and nearby country must have been either in the parade or on the sidewalks along the line of march. The demonstration was democratic in the extreme and every class of men and women, boys and girls, walked in the long line. William Rink, in his eighty-eighth year, one of Dixon's oldest citizens, marched briskly along and was soon followed by hundreds of children from the primary grades of the schools. The men of wealth of Dixon carried their flags with the newspaper carrier boys. Nurses and teachers, ministers and lawyers, farmers, barbers, business men, merchants, clerks, phone girls, factory workers, school girls and boys, all to the tune of band music, horns, red fire, rockets, banners and slogans, and flags, flags, everywhere. The Stars and Stripes formed the basis for every decoration, and the national colors blazed in glory from one end of the long parade to the other.

In the spirit of democracy, everybody walked, unless you except the beautiful young women, two of them, who were carried aloft on the shoulders of men from the Browne

"SERVE BY SAVING"

THE AMERICAN WOMAN'S SLOGAN

Editor's Note—The articles appearing in this paper under the above caption are supplied by the U. S. Food Administration as a practical help to the American woman "in doing her bit."

Saving Meat

Where there is a will to save food there is a way!

And one way to save meat is to study your salad recipes.

It is a common mistake to think that salads are only a side dish. Some salads are so nourishing that they may take the place of a meat dish altogether.

If every housekeeper in America would decide to have at least one meatless day in the week when she served a nourishing salad instead, think how many pounds of meat would be saved for our soldiers next winter!

Here are just a few suggestions of salads that may take the place of the meat dish.

Russian Salad.

1 cup of carrot cubes.

1 cup of potato cubes.
1 cup of cold cooked peas.
1 cup of cold cooked beans.
Mix and serve on Romaine leaves, garnish with hard boiled eggs or salmon boned. Serve with French or boiled dressing.

Stuffed Tomato Salad.

Stuff tomatoes with cottage cheese and nut meats. Pour over it French dressing.

With these suggestions you can undoubtedly think of many more attractive combinations of eggs, beans, peas, cheese and fish with various vegetables and fruits.

Our Problem:

It is to feed our Allies this winter by sending them as much food as we can of the most concentrated nutritive value in the least shipping space. These foods are wheat, beef, pork, dairy products and sugar.

Our Solution:

Is to eat less of these and more of other foods of which we have an abundance, and to waste less of all foods.—From U. S. Food Administrator.

hosts of war, above the mighty floating fortresses of battleships, that guard our coasts. We love it, too, as it floats above the school house, the court house, the home. It speaks to us of wife, of parents, of children, of friends, of all the domestic virtues, of all the gentle ties that bind us to this land. It speaks to us, too, of all those things that make us most proud of our country; of all the grandest heroism and self-sacrifice. On its ample folds there is no stain except the blood of the brave men who have died in its defense.

Let us not forget our responsibility in this great crisis. Let us not forget what our country stands for. Let us never, never forget that today America is the hope of the world.

ARE WOMEN NATURALLY DESPONDENT

While there are women who seem always despondent and depressed and expecting misfortune, that is not woman's natural condition. Such unfortunate suffer from ill-health. An abnormal condition of the system expresses itself in nervousness, sleeplessness, backaches, headaches and despondency.

If all ailing women would make faithful use of that grand remedy for woman's ills' Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, there would be little occasion to ask if despondency is natural to woman.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT--A NEW DEPT.

UNDER present conditions there are many items formerly carried in 10c stores that can no longer be obtained at that price. There are two alternatives, either be without or raise the limit. We could continue without them—but the public want them, expect us to carry them, and sell at the lowest possible price, and there is no good reason why we should not. Therefore we shall establish a 25c limit. Not a price in the store will be changed—not an item now in stock will be raised, in fact we expect better 10c store than we have had because all our profits will not need to be made on 10c goods—but we expect to have as great bargains at 25c or less, than we have had at 10c.

to hostile aggression. It is the spirit of unselfishness in the individual looking and working towards the common good.

It is the morality of politics, the religion of citizenship.

The true patriot is a step higher than a man; he is a true citizen—a citizen in spirit as well as in name.

Patriotism is devotion to our country and unwavering loyalty to its flag. At such a time as this we are united not as German-Americans, not as Swedish-Americans, not as British-Americans, not as any other sort of Americans, but only Americans, one and all.

The new Liberty Loan affords an opportunity to the man who cannot fight for his country to play his part as a patriot citizen. Such an investment is an act of thrift as well as of patriotism.

Every loyal American in this great crisis in the life of the world would put his country above his cash. But by such a contribution we can not only help our country, but conserve our own private fortunes and hard-earned savings.

There is no safer nor sounder investment to be found. It has all the immovable stability of the granite mountains, all the patriotic appeal that comes to us from a soldier's flag-surmounted grave.

Is it not better to loan our dollars to our government, in whose hands all men know them to be secure, than to squander them in luxury, board them in selfishness, while we are paying the taxes, or toss them into the troubled waters of frenzied finance?

Common-sense and loyalty, the practical and the ideal, unite in calling upon us to support this loan. In this appeal business sagacity and patriotism are one.

Let us stand by our brave boys, your sons and brothers, and friends, who are going forth to fight the battle while we live safely and comfortably at home.

Let us furnish the government the money with which to support them. Let us equip them, make them efficient, take good care of them, make them so far as we can, comfortable and happy.

This is our duty and our privilege. It should be our pleasure.

We will not forget what the flag stands for, what it typifies. The flag is ourselves, it is all that we hold most dear. It is the rich plains, the majestic rivers, the mighty forests, the teaming cities, the sublime mountains, the whole of our country. From the surf-beaten cliffs of Maine to the expanding arms of the Golden Gate, from the lordly Columbia to the pine shadowed everglades of Florida, there waves over all but one flag and that is our own stately banner of the Union.

That flag is the glory and heroism of our history; the devotion of the Pilgrims; the gallantry of the Cavaliers; the adventurous spirit of the pioneers; the patriotism of the Revolution. It is our protecting genius, beneath whose wings glow the lights of millions of happy homes. It is the boundless hope of our future; the limitless expanse of era upon era, opening up, one after the other, to ever brighter and more prosperous days.

It is the guaranty to future generations of peace and security for all time to come. It is our protector, our guardian, our friend. It is the symbol of our patriotism, as the cross is of Christianity and, like the cross, it teaches the lesson of unselfish devotion, that "greater love hath no man than this that a man lay down his life for his friends."

The flag of our country. We love it as it waves above the tramping

HOOSIER

You owe it to your family and yourself to save your health, strength and time. Long hours in the kitchen, miles of needless steps, standing at your work, all sap your vitality, bring on old age before its time and put lines into your face.

A Hoosier in your kitchen will change all this. You will have many more hours of leisure. When work time comes you can sit down comfortably and restfully. Here is one feature alone that will save you hours of time—the Hoosier Porcelain top is absolutely sanitary and as easy to keep clean as a china plate. This is but one of the 40 Hoosier labor-saving features.

Your health will be better. Old age will be kept away. Fresher looks will return.

The wonderful kitchen helps and short-cuts devised by the Hoosier's Council of Kitchen Scientists, many of which have been built right into the Hoosier, makes this possible.

Come in and see these cabinets. Let us show you the vital part that makes the Hoosier the greatest kitchen convenience in the world today, and let us explain our easy payment plan. Hoosier prices range from $14.50 to $54.75.

For Mr. and Mrs. Penrose

Mr. and Mrs. John Penrose and sons, John and Henry, entertained Tuesday evening with a six o'clock supper at their home the following guests, Mr. and Mrs. William Penrose, Mr. and Mrs. Dan C. Blackburn, Miss Hannan, Will Hannan, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Rhodes. The supper was given for Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Penrose, who have just returned from their wedding trip to Keokuk, Iowa. The decorations followed Halloween traditions with a large pumpkin filled with fruit as the centerpiece of the table.

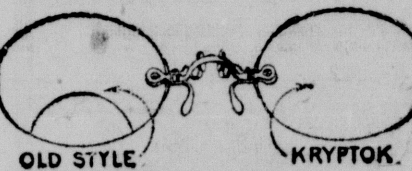

Gave Dinner

Miss Olive Bender delightfully entertained Tuesday evening with three-course six o'clock dinner. The decorations were in chrysanthemums and autumn leaves, with place cards and nut dishes in keeping with Halloween ideas. After the dinner music and dancing were enjoyed.

Husking Bee Was Success

The Husking Bee, given at the H. H. Keigwin home near Walnut Tuesday evening after several postponements, was the usual delightful affair. A number of Dixon people attended, including Atty. E. H. Brewster and Co. Supt. of Schools L. W. Miller, who gave addresses on the Liberty Loan, and Sheriff and Mrs. R. R. Phillips and Deputy Sheriff Schoenholz. Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Gylleck of this city were also present and had prominent places on the program. Mr. Gylleck, for the fourth consecutive year, gave a performance of sleight of hand tricks which were the wonderment of the audience. An especial feature was releasing him self with ease from a strait-jacket in which he was imprisoned. Mrs. Gylleck gave an enjoyable reading. There were many other pleasant features of the entertainment, including music by the Walnut band, and the excellent cafeteria supper served by the ladies of the Baptist church of Walnut. Of course the finding of red ears, among the corn—we believe that the Keigwin family raise no other kind, if the truth be known—contributed to the merriment as did the showering of kernels like confetti. The affair was largely at fresco although the hospitable Keigwin home was kept full of a merry crowd a large share of the evening.

Surprise Pastor and Wife

Members and friends of the Zion congregation gathered at the parsonage on Tuesday evening and surprised the pastor and his wife Rev. and Mrs. L. Woods. Forty were present and a delightful evening was enjoyed. After a social hour a two course supper of many good things was served. Oysters constituted the first course, and sandwiches, pickles, olives, cake and coffee followed. C. C. Buckaloo, during the evening, presented the pastor and his wife with a handsome rocking chair, expressing the appreciation that the people of the Zion church feel in regard to the good their pastor and his wife have accomplished among them. Both Mr. and Mrs. Woods responded with words of appreciation of the gift and told what the good people of Zion meant to their pastorate, in the cheerful and hearty support rendered.

Home from Hunting Trip

C. E. Hill and Ward Hall returned Wednesday from a ten days' camping and duck hunting trip at Sand Slough near Savanna. Tuesday was the only really good duck hunting day and so they returned Wednesday before their luck should have a chance to turn again. Harvey Buzard spent five days with the hunters and friends from Freeport were also entertained at camp.

At E. C. Kennedy Home

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kennedy and daughter were here as guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Kennedy. Mr. Kennedy returned to his home in Winslow, Ill., on Monday, while Mrs. Kennedy and daughter remained in Dixon until Tuesday evening.

Returned to Chicago

Raymond Worsley, who is attending a dental school in Chicago, returned to his work Monday after a week-end visit at his home.

Dr. Hollister Here

Royal Neighbors

A regular meeting of the Royal Neighbors will be held at Miller hall this evening, at 8 o'clock. Reports of the Stockton convention will be heard.

Breakfast for Bride-to-be

A breakfast will be given Friday by Mrs. George Downing in honor of the bride-elect, Miss Mary Todd.

At South Dixon Home

Welcome Little Son

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Scriven, of Seventh Street, announce the birth of a son to their home this week. Mr. Scriven is a foreman on the I. C. road.

Book-Martin Wedding

An attractive wedding of Wednesday was that of Miss Margaret Isabelle Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Martin, of Palmyra, to their "bit" to help the soldier boys Guy Martin Book, of the same town in the year an emergency fund was high noon at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. E. G. Harris, of Sterling, read the service in the presence of twenty-five friends and relatives. Pink and white chrysanthemums, arranged in large bouquets, were attractively disposed about the house. The bride was most becomingly gowned in blue satin. There were no attendants. Preceding the ceremony, her cousin, Miss Dorothy Hileman, played a wedding march, and during the ceremony continued the playing softly.

The guests were invited to the dining room after the ceremony where a delicious wedding luncheon was served, with the bride's sister, Miss Avis Martin, and her three cousins, Miss Dorothy Hileman, and Belle and Edna Martin, assisting in the serving. A beautiful bride's cake and cut flowers decorated the table. The only out-of-town guest was the bride's sister, Mrs. Josephine Lingie, of Chicago.

The wedding trip will be taken to Iowa. For this the bride was prettily attired in an old-rose colored suit with hat encostume. Mr. and Mrs. Book will be gone on their honeymoon three weeks.

Bridge-Luncheon

Mrs. Fred Lord entertained Wednesday afternoon at a bridge luncheon the members of the B. B. Bridge Club. A delightful surprise awaited one of the members, Mrs. F. C. Burdick, whose birthday anniversary falls on today, for when the luncheon was served a handsome birthday cake, candle-lighted, decorated the table in her honor and she was presented with a beautiful cut glass dish.

Yellow candles, with Halloween shades, Halloween candy boxes, and cut out witches further decorated the table, while above hung festoons of black and orange. Yellow and pink roses, attractively arranged, were used in the living room. The Lord home, which has an especially pretty interior, was certainly most attractive and festive in its Halloween dress, and those fortunate enough to be present enjoyed the afternoon thoroughly.

Prayer Meetings Tonight

Patriotism took precedence over prayer-meetings last night and the ministers of the city marched in the Liberty Bond parade. Several of the churches postponed their prayer meetings and will hold them tonight, with the exception of the Baptist church, which announces its prayer meeting for next week Wednesday, when an Echo meeting of the state convention will be held.

Basket Social

The basket social and entertainment which was to have been held Oct. 15th, at the Anterior School one and one quarter miles east of Pennsylvania Corners, taught by Miss Katherine Joseph of Dixon, will be held on Friday, Oct. 26. O. T. Gylleck of Dixon will give a sleight of hand performance. Everyone is cordially invited to come and bring basket lunch.

Minstrels Resulted Profitably

The minstrels, presented by the Moose last week, resulted very profitably for the organization as the gross receipts amounted to $668.00, so that the Moose can feel that the entertainments were successful in every way. The committee wishes to thank the girls and boys and grown-ups, as well, who took part in the entertainment.

To Sing Before Phidians

Miss Marjorie Slothower and Miss Beatrice Beavers will sing "Life's Dream is O'er", by Asher, at the meeting of the Phidian Art Club, to be held the coming Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Steel. Mrs. Moss will have the paper of the afternoon, "Cartagena and the Old Spanish Main".

The Misses Grace and Esther DeVries, of Forreston, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Doctor.

Little Light Bearers

The Little Light Bearers will meet at the M. E. church at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

Work of Woman's Relief Corps

For some time past the members of the W. R. C., throughout the state of Illinois, have been doing their "bit" to help the soldier boys in the present national crisis. Early in the year an emergency fund was established by many of the corps, that in the event of war they could be in a position to aid the soldiers of 1917 just as they had for many years been doing for the soldiers of the Civil War.

At present they are actively engaged in raising money to purchase a United States Standard Ambulance which they hope to be able to send to France by the first of January, 1918. The ambulance will be known as the Illinois Woman's Relief Corps Ambulance, and the name "Department of Illinois Woman's Relief Corps Auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic" will be engraved upon a brass plate and attached to the ambulance. An ambulance aide from each congressional district has been appointed, whose duty it will be to devise ways and means of raising the necessary amount of money. Any assistance rendered the local organization in this most worthy undertaking will be greatly appreciated.

Visited Son at Camp

Mrs. William Bennett, of this city, spent Tuesday with her son Harold at Camp Grant, who left Wednesday for Camp Logan, Houston, Tex. She returned to Dixon Wednesday morning. The boys left Camp Grant at 2 o'clock and arrived in Chicago at 8 o'clock, according to a card Mrs. Bennett received today from her son.

Luncheon for Wedding Guests

Mrs. C. B. Morrison will entertain Saturday noon with a luncheon for Miss Mary Todd, bride-to-be. The guests will be those here for the wedding who are being entertained at the Todd home.

Sunday School Convention

The Sunday Schools of Nelson and Harmon township will meet in convention at the Nelson schoolhouse on Sunday, Oct. 28th, at 2:30 o'clock. The people of the communities are invited.

To Entertain

Miss Helen Brown will entertain at her home this evening the following recent brides, Mrs. L. R. Evans, Mrs. Kerr, and Mrs. Hutton, and the bride-to-be, Miss Mary Todd.

Mrs. Hamilton Wins Golf Cup

Hooray for Mrs. F. L. Hamilton, the proud winner of the Handicap cup in the Woman's golf tournament, which was completed at the country club Wednesday. On Monday the contestants had simmered down to Mrs. Hamilton, Miss Carmey Dement, Mrs. C. E. Smith, and Miss Squires. In the play-off Monday, Miss Dement was matched with Mrs. Hamilton and Miss Squires with Mrs. Smith. By four up and three to play Mrs. Hamilton won from Miss Dement and Mrs. Smith won from Miss Squires. Wednesday saw the battle between Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Hamilton vanquishing Mrs. Smith by one up and twenty holes.

M. E. Choir

The Methodist choir will meet for rehearsal tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock at the church.

Miss Slothower to Sing

Miss Marjorie Slothower will sing at the morning service at the Methodist Church on Sunday.

Luncheon at Country Club

Mrs. Lager, Mrs. Roe, Mrs. F. X. Newcomer, and Mrs. Rowland enjoyed a luncheon today at the Country Club, playing a round of golf in the morning and another this afternoon. It is attractive at the club a day like this.

Cut down your coal bill—and get better heat service with these IDEAL Specialties

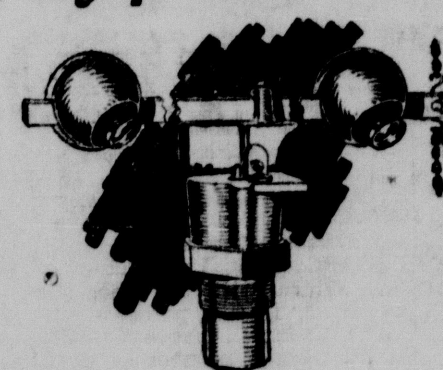

—for OLD or NEW Heating Plants

Norwall Siphon Air Valve

Gives full heating power to the steam radiator and prevents waste of heat. Sensitive and quick action, opens instantly to let out all air from steam radiators—closes tight against escape of steam or water. Stops sputtering and hissing steam—no replaceable parts to wear out—never needs adjustment. Guaranteed for five years—try one!

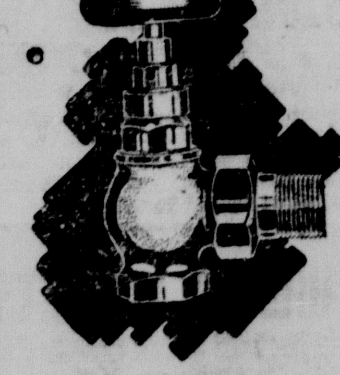

Sylphon Water Regulator

No. 45A

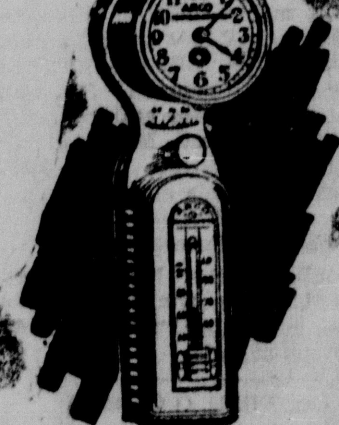

For use on hot water heating outfits for automatic regulation of drafts. Saves heavily in fuel, reduces caretaking labor—prevents boiling—keeps fire burning evenly and requires no attention. Any Hot Water Boiler quickly fitted. Also used on hot water supply boilers, furnishes plenty of warm water at just the temperature desired, for domestic purposes.

Ideal Sylphon Packless Radiator Valve

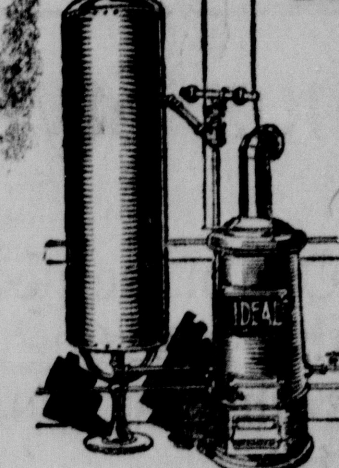

An absolutely steam and water tight valve without packing of any kind, thus absolutely preventing leaks and damage. Every part is metal—nothing to wear or rust out. Most easily turned on or off, never binds or sticks, or needs attention. A wise investment on any job. Same measurement as old style valves so that this packless valve may be easily put on in place of leaky or worn old-fashioned valves.

Arco Temperature Regulator

Keeps the house at right temperature without care or attention—prevents under-heating and over-heating. Turns on dampers in early morning to give comfort at rising time. Provides cooler night temperature—prevents fire from running away, wasting coal and heat, or dying out, leaving unburned fuel. Soon saves first cost in fuel and eliminates all fussing and labor. Holds temperature without attention at any point you desire, day or night. May be attached to any radiator heating outfit or to hot air furnace.

Ideal Boilers for domestic Hot Water Supply

This is a most economical and satisfactory way of providing a bountiful supply of hot water for all domestic purposes. Used in homes, barber shops, stores, factories, garages, restaurants, hotels, clubs, etc. A few shovelfuls of coal will supply warm water for the whole family for a day and when the boiler is equipped with a Sylphon Water Regulator (as shown) the water is always just hot enough—never cold—never scalds. Made in all sizes for any hot water requirement.

Ask your heating or plumbing contractor or dealer for these IDEAL Heating Specialties. If he does not have the article in stock, he can obtain it quickly for you from us. IDEAL Heating Specialties may be seen at our various showrooms, without obligation to buy. Send for IDEAL specialties booklet.

DRAFT RULINGS.
The new draft rulings from the office of the Provost Marshal General should be an immense help to the local exemption boards, and therefore to the district boards of the nation, for they simplify and clarify many questions which were somewhat hazy in the previous rulings.
The first draft rules were put together hastily to meet a great emergency, and as they were indefinite in some minor particulars, those faults can be easily remedied, and the one great outstanding fact is that they did the work for which they were intended, and this country now has a great army in training in quicker time, we believe, than any nation in the world has ever accomplished like results under similar circumstances and equal difficulties.

The new rulings seem to be so plain that more than one interpretation of any of the various sections will be unlikely, which will make the execution of these orders uniform all over the nation. Different interpretations of the law necessarily result in criticism of the actions of the board, for if a man whose status is not clearly defined in the draft rules is exempted, the boards will be charged with leniency by those who understood the law to mean that he should be certified, and the rule works both ways, putting draft officials in an embarrassing position and either working an injustice upon the man called for service or giving him unwarranted privilege.

The rules should be, and apparently are, so clear that there can be no chance for mistake and no room for more than one interpretation. It is but justice to the draft boards and to the registered men.

THE AUTOMOBILE CITY.
The government's advance estimate of the population of the city of Detroit for draft purposes was $50,000. When the men of draft age were all enrolled it gave returns which led the government to revise its estimate to 1,500,000. As this was on its face ridiculous the local authorities have secured returns of their own which show a population of 901,134.

On the foregoing basis Detroit now stands as the fourth city of the union. It is passed only by New York, Chicago and Philadelphia. At the last national census, 1910, it stood ninth, being exceeded by St. Louis, Boston, Cleveland, Baltimore and Pittsburgh, and closely rivaled by Buffalo and San Francisco. At that time it had 465,766 population.

SOCIETY

Wed in Freeport
Dixon friends will be interested in the wedding of Miss Margarita Allemand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Allemand, formerly of this city, who was united in marriage Wednesday morning at St. Joseph's church of Freeport, where they now make their home, to Antony Felder, of that city. Miss Bessie Denny, of this city, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Oh, Promise Me", accompanied by Miss Ethel Gorham, also of Dixon, preceding the ceremony. The bride looked charming in her white silk robes, with veil held in place by a wreath of pearl beads. She carried white roses. Miss Allemand's sister, Miss Hazel, was her attendant and her brother, George Allemand, served as best man. The maid of honor was in yellow silk. After the ceremony a breakfast was served at the bride's home. The house was especially attractive in decorations of yellow and white. Four girl friends of the bride served as waitresses. The bride wore, as she left with her husband for the honeymoon trip, a suit of brown cloth. They will make their home in Freeport upon their return. The guests included from out of town Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Whitish and family, Mrs. Emmert, Miss Denny and Miss Gorham, of this city, and Mrs. Henninger, of Chicago.

SHIP SOLDIERS' PRESENTS EARLY

"DO YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING EARLY," SAYS MAIL HEAD.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) Chicago, Oct. 25.—"Do your Christmas shopping early." This is the new slogan for everyone with a personal as well as a patriotic interest for American sailors and soldiers at home and abroad as insisted upon by W. L. Denning, general superintendent of the railway mail service. The Yuletide is just two months distant. To make certain that packages will reach the boys in France, November 15 is given as the latest date for shipping.

SUFFRAGETTES SUPPORT WILSON

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) Washington, Oct. 25.—A delegation of 100 officers and members of the New York State Woman's Suffrage party conferred today with President Wilson on the suffrage situation in New York state. The president was told that the party wholeheartedly supported the administration and its war aims, and was ready to co-operate with it in every way.

WILSON URGES SUFFRAGE VOTE

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) Washington, Oct. 25.—Speaking as a party leader and as an individual, President Wilson today urged the woman's suffrage issue upon the voters of all states. He told a delegation of 100 members of the New York State Woman's Suffrage party that he hoped their campaign would be successful, and urged men of all parties, in New York particularly, to vote for suffrage.

ILLINOIS MAN HELD AS REBEL

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) Peoria, Oct. 25.—Robert H. Kauffman of Locan is the first man to be indicted by a federal grand jury under the espionage act. A true bill against him, charging him with "attempting to cause insubordination, disloyalty, mutiny and refusal of duty in the military forces of the United States," was returned late yesterday.

HEAD OF MINERS TO HELP GOVT.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 25.—John P. White resigned at noon today as president of the United Mine Workers to become an advisor to Dr. H. A. Garfield, national fuel administrator. Mr. White will be succeeded by Frank J. Hayes, present vice president. John L. Lewis of Springfield, Ill., a former member of the Illinois legislature, and at present statistician of the miners' union, was to be appointed vice president this afternoon. Mr. Hayes, who has been vice president for seven years, said there would be no radical changes in the policy of the organization.

GERMANS STILL WITHDRAWING ON NORTHERN FRONT

DESTROY ALL BEHIND THEM

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) Petrograd, Oct. 25.—The German retreat on the northern end of the front continues. The war office reports that the Russian vanguard lost touch in some sectors with the retreating Germans, who destroyed all bridges, roads and buildings as they fell back.

Retire Fifteen Miles.

The Russian statement says that the Germans who left their advanced positions so far have retired about fifteen miles in the Riga region, near the Pskoff high road and in the sector of the Little Jaegle river.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—The supplementary official statement issued from general headquarters this evening says: "On the Italian front the combined attacking operations are taking their intended course. Up to the present some thousands of prisoners have been reported."

Germans Aid Austrians.

London, Oct. 25.—Austrian forces, heavily re-enforced by Germans, have opened a gigantic smash in an effort to crush Italy. According to the latest reports from Berlin thousands of prisoners have been taken in the first sweep, together with Italian position near Flich and Tolmino and in the northern part of the Bainsizza plateau.

The Germans began their offensive after an intensive artillery fire, in which specially constructed gas shells were thrown at various places.

According to the Italian war office, bad weather intervened during the attack and the fighting died down to some extent. The official communication adds that the Italians are unafraid of the preparations of the Germans and Austrians and that the enemy will find them "steady and prepared."

Smash on Wide Front.

The offensive covers a 23-mile front from Monte Ronbon southeast through Flich and Tolmino and thence southward to the Bainsizza plateau, about ten miles northeast of Goritz, the scene of desperate fighting in the drive by the Italians, which wrested important mountain positions from the Austrians.

It is believed that the war chiefs of the central powers hope by this drive to forestall any Italian move against Trieste and Laibach.

Where the Germans obtained large numbers of re-enforcements for the Austrians in this region has not become apparent, but it is not improbable that some of them were sent post haste from the northern Russian front, where between the Dvina river and the Gulf of Riga there has been a withdrawal by the Germans over a wide front.

Come In and See This Spreader Work.

We announced a short time ago that we have the agency for the Nisco Manure Spreader. We believed at the time that this was the best spreader made, and now, after scores have examined it thoroughly, and commented favorably, we are more than ever convinced that we have the ideal spreader—the original wide-spreading machine.

We want our customers to come in and see this practical, low-down, light-draft spreader. We have it all set up and can put the mechanism in motion just as you'd see it in the field.

Perhaps you don't need a spreader. No matter! Come in just the same and see the "Nisco." Our word for it, you'll be interested anyway. The stands unique among spreaders. It puts manure on the soil in the best possible condition to furnish necessary plant food. A chain conveyor carries the load to a pair of cylinders, revolving one over the other, where it is thoroughly pulverized and thrown onto swiftly revolving paddles that distribute it evenly over three corn rows. The feed can be easily regulated, 3, 6, 9, 12, 15, 18 loads per acre, or shut off entirely.

The Nisco Spreader will carry a big load of manure—never clogs, and with reasonable care will last a lifetime. It is the Teutons Make Violent Attack in Verdun Sector, But Are Driven Back—American Officers See Battle.

American Training Camp in France, Oct. 25.—General Pershing accompanied one of the French generals as far as the second German line in the French attack on the Aisne front.

He was with Gen. Franchet d'Esperey, at first observing the attack from a favorable post some distance in the rear of the French front line. Then General Pershing suggested going into the French trenches.

This they did, but General Pershing was not satisfied and went on through the shell fire into the first line of the captured German trenches and then into the second line. General Pershing's imperturbable attitude during this time is the talk of the French army.

U. S. Officers See Battle.

The American general afterward went with Gen. Franchet d'Esperey to General-Petain's headquarters and was present when Gen. Franchet d'Esperey gave the commander in chief a detailed report of the successful attack.

Several American intelligence officers watched the successful attack made by French troops on the front northeast of Soissons. The Americans saw crowds of German prisoners passing to the rear.

The garrison of Malmaison Fort, captured by the French, was composed of First Grenadier guards.

At the village of Allennet it is reported that 1,400 prisoners were taken, most of them belonging to the youngest classes.

Prisoners Total 8,000.

Paris, Oct. 25.—The number of prisoners taken by the French in their attack northeast of Soissons has reached 8,000, the war office announces.

The Germans attempted no counter-attack on the Aisne battle front during the night.

In the Verdun sector the Germans made a violent attack on the French position north of Hill 344, but were beaten back by the French.

BIGGEST PARADE IN HISTORY OF DIXON

Shoe company, whose employees were there "600 strong."

The various factories of the city did themselves proud last night. The Grand Detour Fire company, led by Col. W. B. Brinton, had several hundred in the parade, and made enough noise to make the Kaiser wince in far away Berlin. They carried plow shares, and pounded on them with metal rods. The Reynolds Wire company employees, dressed in white trousers, and carrying various noise making devices, made a good showing also.

The employees of the Borden Condensed Milk Factory also were there in strength, carrying flags and blowing horns, and dressed in honor of the great occasion.

Great enthusiasm was created among the marchers and the crowds on the street by the stirring music, waving flags, etc., and the evening was surely a powerful factor in the making of patriotism, and in bringing people to the realization of the lengths to which they must go in the future to aid the government if the war goes on. Thanks to the parade, there is a better spirit of co-operation in public work in Dixon now than ever before.

Even the Kaiser's goat, so labeled, was dragged along in the shape of an inoffensive and bewildered nanny. Old fashioned torches and red fire helped to light the faces of the marchers, while the rockets and roman candles traced the course of the parade in streams of colored fire against the night sky.

L. W. Mitchell and A. S. Loo-worth, on horseback, led the parade. Both Dixon bands, Boy Scouts' drum corps, jazz bands, horns and whistles of a variety of pitches, together with the hammering and shrieking of the noise making devices, and the cheering of the great masses of people lining the streets, filled the entire city with noise for more than an hour.

The Dixon Casket company paraded a casket, labeled "Made in Dixon for the Kaiser," and even had Joe Staples, local undertaker, along to perform the last services for Wilhelm. The Dixon Library's part in the parade also caused favorable comment.

CHAPTER XII. A Night Ride.

Meriem and Bwana were sitting on the veranda together the following day when a horseman appeared in the distance riding across the plain toward the bungalow.

Bwana shaded his eyes with his hand and gazed out toward the oncoming rider. He was puzzled. Strangers were few in central Africa. Even the blacks for a distance of many miles in every direction were well known to him. No white man came within a hundred miles that word of his coming did not reach Bwana long before the stranger. His every move was reported to the big Bwana—just what animals he killed and how many of each species, how he killed them, too, for Bwana would not permit the use of prussic acid or strychnine, and how he treated his "boys."

But here was evidently one who had slipped into the country unheralded. Bwana could not imagine who the approaching horseman might be. After the manner of frontier hospitality the globe round, he met the newcomer at the gate, welcoming him even before he had dismounted. He saw a tall, well-knit man of thirty or more, blond of hair and smooth-shaven. There was a tantalizing familiarity about him that convinced Bwana that he should be able to call the visitor by name, yet he was unable to do so.

Bwana was wondering how a lone white man could have made his way through the savage, inhospitable miles that lay toward the south. As though guessing what must be passing through the other's mind, the stranger vouchsafed an explanation.

"I came down from the north to do a little trading and hunting," he said, "and got way off the beaten track. My head man, who was the only member of the safari who had ever before been in the country, took sick and died. We could find no natives to guide us, and so I simply swung back straight north. We have been living on the fruits of our guns for over a month."

"Didn't have an idea there was a white man within a thousand miles of us when we camped last night by a water hole at the edge of the plain. This morning I started out to hunt and saw the smoke from your chimney, so I sent my gun bearer back to camp with the good news and rode straight over here myself. Of course I've heard of you—everybody who comes into central Africa does—and I'd be mighty glad of permission to rest up and hunt around here for a couple of weeks."

"Certainly," replied Bwana. "Make yourself at home."

They had reached the veranda now, and Bwana was introducing the stranger to Meriem and My Dear, who had just come from the bungalow's interior.

"This is Mr. Hanson," he said, using the name the man had given him. "He is a trader who has lost his way in the jungle to the south."

My Dear and Meriem bowed their acknowledgments of the introduction. The man seemed rather ill at ease in their presence. His host attributed this to the fact that his guest was unaccustomed to the society of cultured women, and so found a pretext to extricate him quickly from his seemingly unpleasant position and lead him away to his study and the brandy and soda, which were evidently much less embarrassing to Mr. Hanson.

When the two had left them Meriem turned toward My Dear.

"It is odd," she said, "but I could almost swear that I had known Mr. Hanson in the past. It is odd, but quite impossible," and she gave the matter no further thought.

For three weeks Hanson had remained. During this time he said that his boys were resting and gaining strength after their terrible ordeals in the untracked jungles to the north, but he had not been as idle as he appeared to have been. He divided his small following into two parts, intrusting the leadership of each to men whom he believed he could trust.

One party he moved very slowly northward along the trail that connects with the great caravan routes entering the Sahara from the south. The other he ordered straight westward with orders to halt and go into permanent camp just beyond the great river which marks the natural boundary of the country that the big Bwana rightfully considers almost his own.

To his host he explained that he was moving his safari slowly toward the north—he said nothing of the party moving westward. Then one day he announced that half his boys had deserted, for a hunting party from the bungalow had come across his northerly camp, and he feared that they might have noticed the reduced numbers of his following.

And thus matters stood when one hot night Meriem, unable to sleep, rose and wandered out into the garden. The Hon. Morison had been urging his girl once more that evening, and the girl's mind was in such a turmoil that she had been unable to sleep.

The wide heavens above her seemed den. The man turned his head in the direction of the beast.

What he saw sent him to the ground, huddled close beneath the shrubbery—a man was coming, leading two ponies. Meriem heard now and stopped to look and listen. A moment later the Hon. Morison Baynes drew near, the two saddled ponies at his heels.

Meriem looked up at him in surprise. The Hon. Morison grinned sheepishly. "I couldn't sleep," he explained, "and was going for a bit of a ride when I chanced to see you out here, and I thought you'd like to join me. Ripping good sport, you know, night riding. Come on."

Meriem laughed. The adventure appealed to her. "All right," she said.

Hanson swore beneath his breath. The two led their horses from the garden to the gate and through it. There they discovered Hanson's mount.

"Why, here's the trader's pony," remarked Baynes.

"He's probably down visiting with the foreman," said Meriem.

"Pretty late for him, isn't it?" remarked the Hon. Morison. "I'd hate to have to ride back through that jungle at night to his camp."

A moment later the two had mounted and were moving slowly across the moon-bathed plain.

Their horses were pressed side by side. Baynes was pressing Meriem's hand as he poured words of love into her ear, and Meriem was listening.

"Come to London with me," urged the Hon. Morison. "I can gather a safari, and we can be a whole day upon the way to the coast before they guess that we have gone."

"Why must we go that way?" asked the girl. "Bwana and My Dear would not object to our marriage."

"I cannot marry you just yet," explained the Hon. Morison. "I must inform my people, and there are other formalities to be attended to first. You do not understand. It will be all right. We will go to London. I cannot wait. If you love me you will come."

"You love me?" she asked. "You will marry me when we have reached London?"

Again the pony neighed, this time closer. There was the sound of his body brushing against shrubbery. Hanson heard and wondered how the animal had got from the corral, for it was evident that he was already in the garden.

with his own ponies, and he had hit upon a scheme both to utilize the young Englishman and get rid of him at the same time.

"And I thought," continued the trader, "that, inasmuch as I'm about due to move, you might like to suggest to Mr. Baynes that he go with me. I'd be willin' to take him north to the caravan trails as a favor to you, sir."

Bwana stood in deep thought for a moment. Presently he looked up.

"Of course, Hanson, Mr. Baynes is my guest," he said, a grim twinkle in his eye. "Really I cannot accuse him of planning to run away with Meriem on the evidence that we have, and as he is my guest I should hate to be so discourteous as to ask him to leave. But if I recall his words correctly it seems to me that he has spoken of returning home, and I am sure that nothing would deter him more than going north with you. You say you start tomorrow? I think Mr. Baynes will accompany you."

"Drop over in the morning, if you please, and now good night, and thank you for keeping a watchful eye on Meriem."

Hanson hid a grin as he turned and sought his saddle. Bwana stepped from the veranda to his study, where he found the Hon. Morison pacing back and forth, evidently very ill at ease.

"Baynes," said Bwana, coming directly to the point, "Hanson is leaving for the north tomorrow. He has taken a great fancy to you and just asked me to say to you that he'd be glad to have you accompany him. Good night, Baynes."

At Bwana's suggestion Meriem kept in her room the following morning until after the Hon. Morison Baynes had departed. Hanson had come for him early—in fact, he had remained all night with the foreman, Jervis, that he might get an early start.

The farewell exchanges between the Hon. Morison and his host were of the most formal type, and when at last the guest rode away Bwana breathed a sigh of relief. It had been an unpleasant duty, and he was glad that it was over, but he did not regret his action.

He did not mention the subject again to Meriem, and in this he made a mistake, for the young girl, while realizing the debt of gratitude she owed Bwana and My Dear, was both proud and sensitive, so that Bwana's action in sending Baynes away and giving her no opportunity to explain or defend hurt and mortified her. Also it did much toward making a martyr of Baynes in her eyes and arousing in her breast a keen feeling of loyalty toward him.

ELDENA

"I see a lot of wine glasses on our table, but the menu is mum on the subject."

"Cheer up, old man, the menu you have there is to be put in your pocket, where your wife will be sure to find it."

Announcing the New Oakland Sensible Six

THE NEW OAKLAND SENSIBLE SIX IS HERE. It is a continuation of the remarkably successful Oakland Sensible Six of the past three seasons, which has been annually refined, improved and strengthened so that now we are offering tomorrow's car to you today—the forerunner of the type of automobile that soon shall command America.

Scientific development of the engine now makes it more powerful, more speedy at the getaway, more active in traffic and more economical in use of fuel.

Improvement in the design of intake and exhaust manifolds secure the utmost power value from today's gasoline.

The overhead valve high-speed, six cylinder engine now delivers 44 horse power at 2600 r. p. m. or one full working horse power for every 48 pounds of car weight.

The new force feed oiling system gives thorough lubrication to the vital moving parts of the engine.

Higher cooling efficiency has been obtained through the use of a larger pump and new type bi-plane fan of powerful suction.

Proper design has contrived a full 106 inches of body room on the 112 inch wheelbase—affording seating capacity and leg room equal to that of many cars of much longer wheelbase.

Long, specially graded, semi-elliptic underslung springs and extra large tires give ideal riding comfort—accentuated by the deep genuine leather upholstery.

The fine appearance of the new Oakland Sensible Six is enhanced by a sloping windshield of new design; an oil gauge of pressure feed type on the dash; a deeper radiator; a higher body wall and the tire carrier at the rear of the car.

These are just a few of the features that contribute to the complete excellence of the new Oakland Sensible Six.

See all of them in the car itself in our display room.

WIT AND NEAR WIT.

"She's mighty proud of her boy." "Yes, indeed. She told me that she hoped the war would be over before he got to be president of the United States."

"She's been married twice." "Well?"

"She says now she's married once for love, and once for money, and she's wondering what there is left to marry for."

Peterson's Ointment

Best For Eczema

First Application Stops Itching of Eczema, Salt Rheum and Piles.

"Live and let live is my motto," says Peterson. "Druggists all over America sell PETERSON'S OINTMENT for 25 cents a large box and I say to these druggists, if anyone buys my ointment for any of the diseases or ailments for which I recommend it and are not benefited give them their money back."

"I've got a safe full of thankful letters testifying to the mighty healing power of Peterson's Ointment for old and running sores, eczema, salt rheum, ulcers, sore nipples, broken breast, itching scalp and skin pimples, blackheads, blind, bleeding and itching piles."

John Scott, 38 Virginia St., Buffalo, writes: "Peterson's Ointment is simply wonderful. It cured me of eczema and also piles, and did it so quickly that I was astonished."

Peterson's Ointment is sold by all druggists.

You've enjoyed it at restaurants and other places—now you want your family and your guests to join you in the same pleasure. That's one of the joys of serving Bevo—to hear your guests say how good it is—then to listen to their arguments as to just what it is. If they haven't seen the bottle they'll all agree that it is something else—if they have seen the bottle each will have a different explanation for its goodness.

Bevo is nutritive—pure through pasteurization and sterilization—non-intoxicating, wholesome and thoroughly refreshing. Note—Bevo should be served cold.

Bevo—the all-year-round soft drink

Get Bevo at linn, restaurants, groceries, department and drug stores, picnic grounds, baseball parks, soda fountains, dining cars, steamships, and other places where refreshing beverages are sold. Guard against substitutes—have the bottle opened in front of you.
